

This is a test legal document for the Pocket Counsel RAG system. It contains sample legal text to test PDF processing, sentiment analysis, and vector search functionality. This document will be processed page by page, chunked into smaller pieces, and analyzed for sentiment. The system should successfully extract text, create embeddings, and store the processed chunks in the vector database.